Vision, Mission and Guiding Policy Principles

VISION
To be the leading advocate for plan sponsors and administrators in the pursuit of an effective and sustainable retirement income system in Canada.

MISSION
ACPM is a national volunteer-based organization acting as the informed voice of plan sponsors, administrators and their service providers in advocating for improvement to the Canadian retirement income system.

GUIDING POLICY PRINCIPLES
ACPM believes in the following principles as the basis for its policy development in support of an effective and sustainable Canadian retirement income system:

Diversification through Voluntary / Mandatory and Public / Private Options
Canada’s retirement income system should be comprised of an appropriate mix of voluntary Third Pillar and mandatory First and Second Pillar components.

Third Pillar Coverage
Third Pillar retirement income plan coverage should be encouraged and play a meaningful ongoing role in Canada’s retirement income system.

Adequacy and Security
The components of Canada’s retirement income system should collectively enable Canadians to receive adequate and secure retirement incomes.

Affordability
The components of Canada’s retirement income system should be affordable for both employers and employees.

Innovation in Plan Design
Canada’s retirement income system should encourage and permit innovation in Third Pillar plan design.

Adaptability
Canada’s retirement income system should be able to adapt to changing circumstances without the need for comprehensive legislative change.

Harmonization
Canada’s pension legislation should be harmonized.
Member Focus
Understanding ACPM members’ views, needs and interests.

Talent
The central role played by our primary asset: skilled individuals volunteering their professional expertise.

Thoughtful Consideration
Balanced consideration of other stakeholders’ interests in the development of ACPM’s own policy positions.

Clarity
Clarity in legislation, regulations and retirement income arrangements.

Good Governance
Excellence in governance and administration, both in the retirement income system and in our Association.

Resource Management
Prudent investment of our human and financial resources in ways that best support the objectives of our Association and its members.

Accountability
Accountability and clarity of purpose so that everyone involved with ACPM knows what is expected of them and others.
ACPM helps to set the agenda for the retirement income adequacy debate as well as respond to initiatives as they arise. Throughout the year, across Canada, ACPM has been active in advocating for an effective and sustainable retirement income system in Canada. We have developed a forward looking advocacy plan to guide our activities for the upcoming year.

This past year, ACPM organized a "Leaders' Roundtable" with business leaders and labour leaders to identify areas of common ground in the retirement income debate and provide a forum for ongoing dialogue. The forum identified key challenges, discussed possible solutions, and created a potential framework for further action.

Our main areas of advocacy activity are guided by three foundational ACPM position papers that were issued in the prior year:

(i) DB Pension Plan Funding – advocating for a new funding standard for defined benefit pension plans;
(ii) Principles for Mandatory Public Pension Plans – a series of principles to evaluate any expansion of mandatory public pension plans;
(iii) Target Benefit Plan Supplemental Report – focusing principally on the conversion of existing plans to target benefit plans. This is a companion document to the Target Benefit Plan paper originally released in March, 2012.

During the year, considerable advocacy efforts were expended in considering and responding to the Ontario government’s proposal to establish an Ontario Retirement Pension Plan, focusing in particular on the impact that the ORPP may have on existing retirement savings arrangements.

Significant reforms began in the area of DB Pension Plan funding, with initial moves away from the solvency funding standard. Québec enacted Bill 57 which eliminated the solvency valuation to determine required contributions, and replaced it with a more nuanced funding model that will provide more predictable contributions. This will promote the sustainability of defined benefit pension plans while ensuring reasonable benefit security for plan beneficiaries. Ontario continued its temporary solvency funding relief and announced a broad review of the solvency funding regime to occur in the upcoming year.

ACPM formed a Federal Council, comprised of federally regulated plans, to focus on pension issues arising with the federal regulator. The Federal Council began its operations in the past year, conducting an initial meeting with OSFI representatives, and advocated on various federal legislative and regulatory issues. The new Council has been a valuable addition to ACPM’s existing network of six Regional Councils.

ACPM has also advocated for the continued implementation of PRPPs in Canada on a harmonized basis, as an additional tool available to support retirement income savings.

A key new initiative in the past year relates to financial literacy – a priority identified in our strategic plan. During the past several years, the federal government has devoted more resources towards the promotion of financial literacy in order to help Canadians navigate the complexities of financial investment and stability. With endorsement from Jane Rooney, the National Financial Literacy Leader, ACPM launched an online Retirement Literacy website that has focused on topics that are specifically related to retirement income. There are three sections covering government, workplace and individual savings programs as well as a special section on the Canada Pension Plan Investment Board.

The site has had thousands of page views since its launch in January and has been visited by many Canadians across the country. We are now looking forward to further improving the website and increasing awareness as retirement literacy is an ongoing process that can improve understanding of the retirement solutions that are available to Canadians of all ages. ACPM will once again be working with the federal financial literacy program to provide relevant and accessible consumer information. We would like to thank our project sponsors that have been acknowledged in this Annual Report.
ACPM has completed another successful year as the leading advocate for Canada’s pension plan sponsors, administrators, and related service providers. This past year has witnessed the continuation of a substantial public debate in the area of retirement income adequacy, as the retirement income landscape in Canada continues to evolve rapidly.

There have been many other pension reform initiatives and comments across Canada in all the jurisdictions in which ACPM has participated. ACPM submissions are published on the website at www.ACPM.com. The ACPM Five-Point Plan was originally released in 2010. It remains relevant today as a comprehensive plan of action. However, with the many developments since 2010, work is currently underway to update this central advocacy document, outlining ACPM’s advocacy strategy going forward.

In addition to various formal submissions, ACPM has established effective working relationships with policymakers and regulators in jurisdictions across Canada. We promote ongoing and frequent dialogue with key stakeholders on key issues relevant to Canada’s retirement income system.

One of ACPM’s key strengths is its national reach. This is accomplished in large part through the Regional Councils that are active in all parts of Canada and our newly formed Federal Council. The Councils are an important point of contact for our membership, policymakers, regulators, and other stakeholders. This past year, the various Councils have organized sixteen events across the country with the participation of over 1,000 ACPM members and other stakeholders.

It is important to recognize and thank all of our ACPM volunteers – those on the Board, National Committees, and our various Regional Councils, amongst others. The volunteers are the core of our organization offering their expertise and time in pursuit of the larger objectives of ACPM – an effective and sustainable retirement income system in Canada.

The commitment and expertise of our various volunteers allows ACPM to develop policy positions for needed reforms on a national level which are persuasive and compelling. Ultimately, it is the clarity of our various reform initiatives and consistent advocacy of these positions that do lead and will lead to appropriate reforms in various Canadian jurisdictions, preferably on a harmonized basis.

I would also like to recognize our national office staff, all of whom serve our organization with dedication and efficiency. They provide key leadership for our many initiatives, as well as important support to our volunteers, enabling our volunteers to best leverage their own time in service to ACPM.

Finally, an organization such as ACPM is ultimately comprised of our membership. I would like to recognize and thank those organizations who have made a substantial commitment to ACPM as Executive Members. Equally, I would also like to recognize and thank all those who continue to demonstrate commitment to ACPM by being Individual Members. Ultimately our membership is our principle resource and, at ACPM, we are blessed with a membership of truly superior quality – those who are leaders in the retirement income industry in all parts of Canada. Each member is ultimately the best ambassador for ACPM and I would urge you to continue to promote the organization within your own networks and communities, enabling us to continue to build on this important resource as we pursue an effective and sustainable retirement income system in Canada.

The ACPM Board is guided by its three year strategic plan, which has served us well. This upcoming year marks the last year of the three year plan. This year, we will begin the process of developing the next three year plan.

This report represents my final annual report after two busy and productive years as Chair of the Board. During the upcoming year, I will transition to my successor. It has been a privilege to serve with so many dedicated and accomplished pension industry professionals, as we continue to advocate for an effective and sustainable retirement income system in Canada. I will look forward to a continued contribution in a different capacity.

And now on to an equally busy, eventful, and productive 2016–17!

Respectfully submitted,

Hugh Wright

Advocacy

We have four decades as Canada’s leading advocacy body that represents the retirement income industry. With committed volunteers that are leading experts in their respective fields, we assess and comment on proposed legislation related to pension and retirement income issues at the federal and provincial levels.

In conjunction with the ACPM National Policy Committee, submissions are prepared and presented directly to governments, working commissions or panels that gather input prior to making changes in legislation. In addition, ACPM crafts position papers on specific subjects of interest, which are then released to the retirement income industry, governments and the general public.

NOTE: In accordance with the By-laws, the Chair of the Board and the ACPM CEO are ex-officio members of all National Committees and Councils.
FOR THE YEAR ENDING
JANUARY 31, 2016

Financial highlights include the following:

1. Net Assets at January 31, 2016, were $553,896 compared to $571,048 at the same time the previous year.

2. The Association recorded an operating deficit of $20,454.

3. Revenues came in at $1,219,508 compared to $1,104,580 the previous year. This increase is primarily due to increased revenues from Individual and Executive Membership fees and the National Conference.

4. Expenses totaled $1,239,962 as compared to $1,171,594 the previous year.

5. At year-end, ACPM had $496,113 (including interest) in investments. This meets with ACPM Reserve policy, which ensures that sufficient funds are set aside to allow for fluctuations in revenues and expenditures and unforeseen contingencies.

Providing adequate resources to support the ongoing cost of ACPM operations is critical for ACPM to serve its members and advocate for an effective and sustainable Canadian retirement income system.

NOTE: ACPM’s audited financial statements for the year 2015–16 are available at www.acpm-acarr.com in the "Members Only" section.
The National Council acts as a ‘Council of Councils’ and provides an opportunity for ACPM Councils to share ideas and discuss issues and matters of common concern.

It is comprised of the following positions:

ACPM RETIREMENT LITERACY WEBSITE (http://retirementliteracy.acpm.com/)

In support of the federal Financial Literacy initiative in conjunction with the Financial Consumer Agency of Canada, the ACPM Retirement Literacy website was launched in January 2016. It contains four question-and-answer sections that cover Government Programs, Workplace Retirement Savings Plans, Individual Savings Plans and CPPIB. In addition, there are sources of information that can be explored in more detail at the convenience of the website visitor.

In the future, ACPM will be building on this information and promoting it to both the retirement income industry and the general public. The ACPM Retirement Literacy Initiative was made possible through the generosity of the project sponsors listed below.
THE OBSERVER

Since 1976, ACPM has grown to become the leading advocacy organization for the retirement income industry in Canada. The dedication, commitment and experience of our volunteers have been, and continue to be, essential to the success of ACPM.

Every year, starting in 2009, an individual volunteer has been honoured for their outstanding contributions via the ACPM Award for Exceptional Volunteerism. In 2014, the ACPM Industry Award was created to recognize the efforts of an individual who has proven to be an inspiration for fundamental change in the Canadian retirement income industry.
ACPM would like to extend our gratitude to Executive Member organizations for their generous support in the 2015–16 fiscal year.

NOTE: We respect the privacy of Executive Members who have requested that their organizations remain anonymous.
