ACPM Board of Directors announces appointment of Korinne Collins as new CEO

The Board of Directors of the Association of Canadian Pension Management (ACPM) today announced the appointment of Korinne Collins, ICD.D as its new Chief Executive Officer, following a comprehensive search process.

Ms Collins is a senior business leader who brings extensive experience in financial services, learning and development, and association management. Prior to joining ACPM, she served as VP, Education & Events at the Canadian Credit Union Association where she led the strategy and execution of education, conferences and research. Prior to that, Korinne held senior leadership positions in learning and development at CIBC, IBM, and PWC.

Ms Collins is a Certified Corporate Director with governance experience and serves on several boards.

"ACPM is thrilled to welcome Korinne and looks forward to a bright future under her leadership as we embark on the next phase of the association's growth," said Chuck Bruce, President of ACPM's Board of Directors. "Korinne's experience and innovative approach will be invaluable as we continue to advocate for the retirement income security of Canadians."

"I am honoured to join ACPM and look forward to working with the talented team, volunteers and members to continue driving ACPM's mission forward," said ACPM's new CEO Korinne Collins.

Ms Collins takes over from ACPM's former CEO who retired from his role earlier this year.
